On suffering…

“Our human compassion binds us the one to the other - not in pity or patronizingly, but as human beings who have learnt how to turn our common suffering into hope for the future.” - Nelson Mandela

“Suffering, it turns out, demands profound imagination. A new future has to be conjured up because the old future isn't there anymore.” - Rob Bell
Tara’s Corner

Our Relationship with Violence

This July I am thinking about our relationship with violence as a nation. We seem to be caught in a never-ending war abroad and have mass killings so often domestically that we are numb.

If we hope to break this pattern we need to take some radical actions. First, we must be able to see ourselves in our enemies. This means doing some deep listening. We need to see ourselves through their eyes.

Then, we need to find peace within ourselves. We need to tackle our own anger and fear and rage. Let's learn to act from a place of love and acceptance.

Perhaps then we can start a dialogue where we respectfully engage one another; share our hopes for our families and for our nations.

We are interdependent whether we like it or not. Only love will secure our survival.

Tara Hawkins, Lay Leader

People & Activities:

CVUU has two terrific women handling the Sunday children’s programming this year.

Julianne Larsen is the new Children’s Program Coordinator. She is in charge of teaching the children’s program downstairs at CVUU for ages 3-11 during the Sunday service. This includes a chalice lighting and other UU elements in addition to fun thematic activities and UU lessons for the children.

Julianne has nannied and taken care of young children in a variety of situations. She has attended CVUU for several years with her partner Tara. We are grateful to Julianne for her commitment to this important role at CVUU.

Rowan Ferré is joining the CVUU staff as the Childcare and Children’s Program Assistant on Sundays. Rowan will be a Senior at Ridgeline High School this coming year. She is involved in many programs outside of school including, theatre, volunteering at the Cache Humane Society, and much more.

She is also one of the youth in our program who will be attending a social justice leadership training in New Orleans this summer. She has been attending CVUU for 9 months and we look forward to seeing more of her throughout this year!

There will be a children's program throughout the summer. In the fall, Julianne and Rowan will be bringing in UUA curriculum for the kids. The team is doing an inventory to assess what the program may need for the future.

Action Teams:

Building & Facilities: CVUU strives to be as green as possible. Read about our compost and recycling efforts. Turn off the lights to save energy and make sure the doors are locked if you are the last to leave. Check basements lights. Check out the CVUU solar power production.

Grounds: Looking for a spiritual practice? Yes, you too can cultivate a meditation practice by weeding! Anytime you feel the urge for a few minutes of reflection, grab a weeding tool from the back closet in the Youth Room (“garage”) and go for it!

CVUU Hikers: Five hikers drove up Logan Canyon to the Temple Fork road for about a four mile roundtrip hike on the Spawn Creek Trail. Hikers returned to the Wasatch-Cache National Forest Service Station in Logan by 5pm.

This easy to moderate hike along the perennial flowing Spawn Creek features several beaver ponds complete with beaver dams and lodges, wildflowers, views, a nice breeze, and good company! Unfortunately, no beaver were spotted. 😞

The next CVUU hike is scheduled for Sunday, July 24th

August 7-9: Earthfire Traditional Vision Quest. Argyle Canyon, Duschesne County, UT
The ages-old practice of Self-Discovery, four days and nights of solo fasting in the wilderness. Why would anyone do this? Because it works!

Questing is a powerful tool for moving through psychological barriers to finding purpose and joy in our lives.
Each of us has a role in society and gifts that we can offer others, and Questing brings us to a mindset where these are recognized. In fact, finding our place in culture is at the core of Questing. To maximize the benefits of Questing, our 8-day program includes time before the Quest, for preparation, as well as afterwards for reflection and guidance on understanding the experience. Limited space, apply early!

Contact friends of CVUU Dawn and Matt Hansen for a free brochure or more information at (435) 752-7163 (landline) or quest4@gmail.com (be sure to include Vision Quest in the subject line of e-mail).
